BNP Paribas Real Estate APM Luxembourg moves to the eKinox building in Kirchberg

BNP Paribas Real Estate APM Luxembourg is launching the constructive works to improve its future working spaces in the eKinox building, located in the Kirchberg district in Luxembourg.

This move is intended to provide our employees with a modern and functional working environment, while enhancing the quality of hospitality and services offered to our clients.

The new spaces were designed to foster collaboration, innovation and well-being at work within an ergonomic and optimised framework.

In addition, the eKinox building has important technical and environmental advantages. It has a triple certification, namely HQE (exceptional level), BREEAM (excellent level) and DGNB (gold level).

The relocation of the complete teams, currently housed in the nearby Kronos building, is planned for the end of September this year. In the continuity of the current offices, BNP Paribas Real Estate will remain in the same environment as BGL BNP Paribas to foster intra-group collaborations.
